BAIAD Recommends:

Vote Yes to Measure A

(Santa Clara County)

In the midst of Silicon Valley's riches, 6,500 people sleep on the street each night. Hundreds of thousands more struggle with housing prices that are far higher than working families can afford.

We're in an out-of-control housing crisis, but in 19 days we can take a big step in the right direction. Measure A for Affordable Housing will raise $950 million dollars to tackle homelessness and create affordable homes for the most vulnerable in our community.

The San Jose Mercury News wrote that Measure A "can turn a county with one of the most significant homeless problems in the nation into one with a model solution." It's been endorsed by the League of Women Voters, Habitat for Humanity, and leaders from every sector and corner of the County.

Yet to pass on election day, Measure A needs the support of two-thirds of voters.

That means we need to make sure everyone knows about Measure A and VOTE YES.
